AUSTRALIAN OPERATIONAL NETWORK UPDATE

PLEASE BE ADVISED OF THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION

We continue to see improvements in the movement of aged shipments through the network although this has slowed in recent days.

We are monitoring the current transit times against SLA and this is currently between 4 - 9 working days at this current time.

The Omnicron Covid strain has continued to impact deliveries and the below information received from our partner in Australia explains how this has affected the deliveries: -

Considering the isolation of both positive cases and household close contacts, approximately 10% of our workforce is being impacted by Covid (inclusive of both employees and drivers) · On a positive note, we are not seeing any trend of spread on-site meaning our Covid safety measures are sound.

Most cases are being linked to personal social or household interactions · The surge in Omicron has impacted our access to and availability of relief drivers and agency staff. We have solid partnerships in place however they are experiencing similar challenges from Covid.

As a result of the above, we expect to see national delays of an additional few days continuing through to at least the end of January. Particular areas of focus include:

- WA – Has been experiencing significant delays
- NSW – 1-2 day inbound/outbound delay
